Dear Members,

Good morning and I hope you are having a peaceful weekend. I did not mean to interrupt that but have noticed that our at-large members, and some local members too, have not made their hotel accommodation reservations for the 2012 National Convention. Do not procrastinate, hurry and take advantage of the discounted rate now. The discounted rate may not be available when you finally make up your mind and you may have to pay full rate. There are other functions at the hotel during the same weekend with the Efik National Convention and rooms are going fast. Avoid the rush and remember that your credit card will not be charged until you check out. To make your hotel reservation, visit the convention page on our web site at www.efiknationalusa.org/2012-convention. Reserving your room now does not cost you a dime. It guarantees you a room at the discounted rate, and peace of mind. Let us show other Chapters what we mean when we say 'let charity begin at home'

We look forward to seeing you at the Hilton Washington DC/Rockville hotel, venue of the Efik National Convention.

Thank you,

Esessien E. Offiong
President
